Skoch Campaign Responds to Debate Requests

Retired Air Force Brigadier General Bernie Skoch welcomes the opportunity to debate John Boozman.

Springdale, AR, September 16, 2009 – Responding to suggestions--as recently as Tuesday--by members of broadcast media, community groups and local political organizations calling for a debate between Congressman John Boozman and his primary challenger, retired Air Force Brigadier General Bernie Skoch, Skoch has issued the following statement:

"We look forward to debating our long-term incumbent Congressman John Boozman. We will meet him anytime and anywhere to allow the people of our district to hear and see for themselves our significant differences on important issues. Though we are both Republicans, we take a far different view on dealing with illegal immigration, government bailouts, the expanding role of the federal government, government spending, and the national debt. I can think of no better way to show what this contest is about than in a public forum."
